

When you leave the classroom,
we can help
continue your learning.

The Organization Development Network of New York (ODNNY) is an association of people who seek to have a positive impact in the world by applying the principles and practices of Organization Development to transform themselves and their companies, organizations and communities. We provide opportunities for our members and others to learn and apply the latest OD theory and skills to create meaningful, sustainable change.

Take advantage of a reduced student membership rate and join ODNNY now to:

- Attend interesting and engaging programs facilitated by key thinkers in our field
- Network and connect with practitioners across the many distinct areas of OD
- Collaborate on important initiatives that move OD forward in the NY-area
- Work with a mentor to further hone your career focus and professional development
- Make a difference in helping non-profits succeed through your participation in our Pro-Bono initiatives
